Amber practices in the Insurance Litigation Group at Beard Winter. She specializes in personal injury, disability insurance, property loss, loss transfer, and occupiers' liability including with respect to commercial and residential facilities, as well as ski resorts. She brings to her disability practice the valuable experience gained during a secondment with a major insurer working with their in-house litigation counsel.

She is licenced to practice law in Canada and Australia. She has appeared before the Superior Court of Justice, Divisional Court and Court of Appeal. She is a member of the Law Society of Upper Canada, the Advocates' Society, the Canadian Bar Association, the Canadian Defence Lawyers' Association and the Law Society of New South Wales.

Amber also has a growing mediation practice. She offers mediation services with respect to a broad range of lawsuits including personal injury, long-term disability and property loss claims.

Prior to attending law school, she was an avid soccer player and competitive ski racer. She enjoys spending her spare time outdoors with family and friends.
